The 1997 Finial is dedicated to an individual who demonstrates the fullness of the CIU motto, "To Know Him and To Make Him Known." The Finial is dedicated to

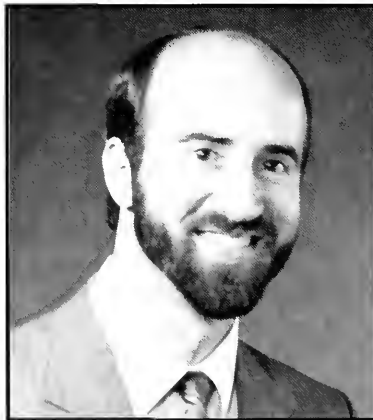

Ralph Enlow

Dr. Ralph Enlow is Columbia's definition of a Renaissance man, both corporately and personally. He's read it, tried it, taught it, articulated it. In his 22 years on the faculty and staff of Columbia International University, it seems that he has done it all - Admissions Director, Alumni Director, Assistant CBC Dean, CBC Dean and Vice President of Academic Affairs. He's even worked in the dish pit!

Ralph does nothing halfway. His brilliance and commitment paved the way for doctoral studies at the George Peabody School of Education at Vanderbilt University and for his return to Columbia Bible College as Dean and then Vice President of Academic Affairs for CIU. He has proven himself as a consummate leader and education.

He's also been a choir leader, Sunday School teacher, an occasional preacher, a team leader for European study tours, outfielder for the faculty softball team, missionary instructor in the Ukraine and a local church elder. He's been a friend, encourager, partner. With his sweetheart Valerie, whom he met at CBC and married in 1977, he's raised a pair of fine children, Ralph and Evangeline.

It is with heartfelt pain that I commend Ralph to his new role as Executive Director of the Accrediting Association of Bible College. I will miss him. He will always be both a colleague and a friend of mine and CIU.

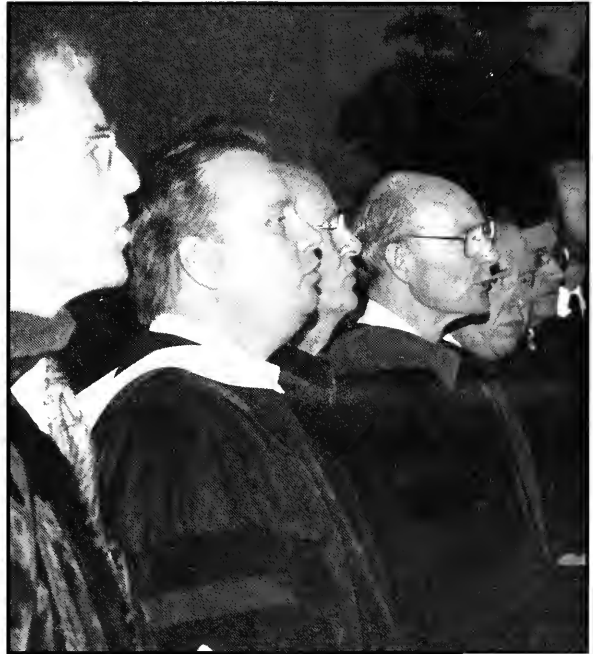

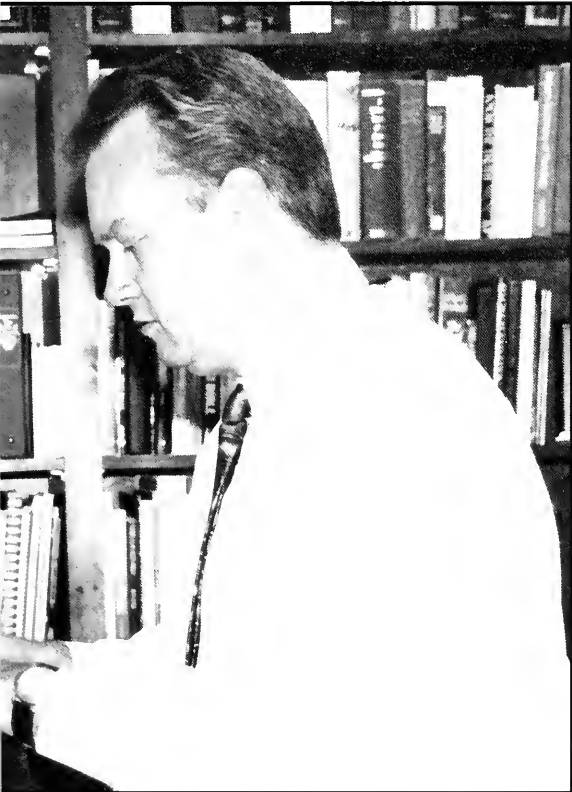

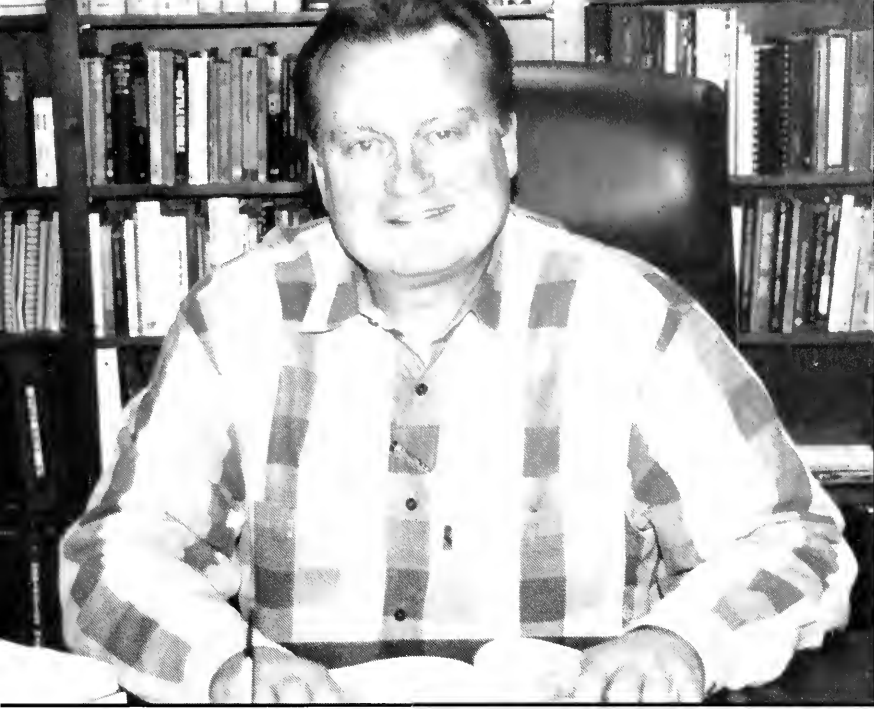

Johnny Miller

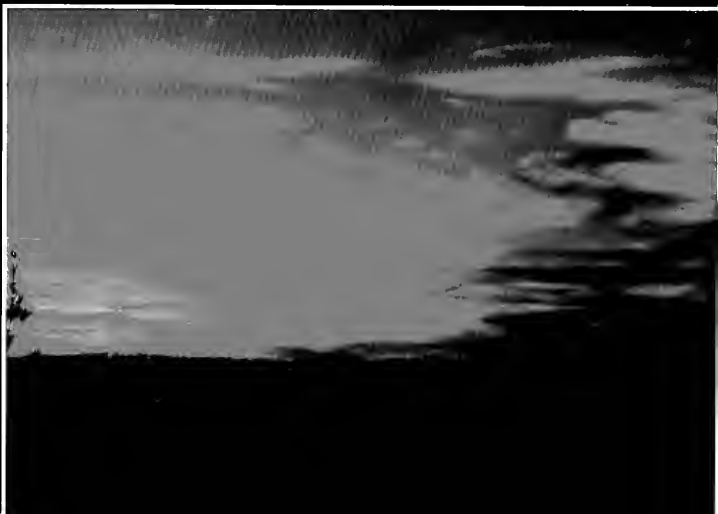

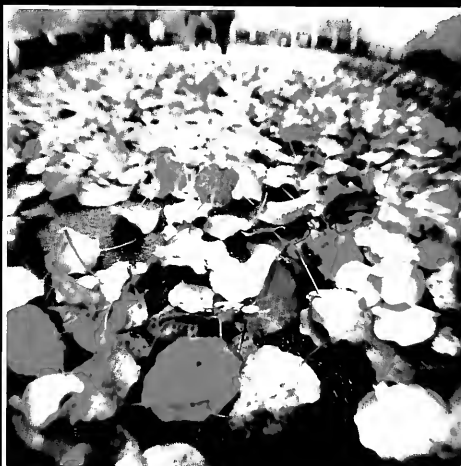

I count it a special honor and privilege to have worked with and for Ralph from 1986 until now. I have appreciated his character, his leadership, and his softball ability, and sense of humor, but most of all, his friendship.

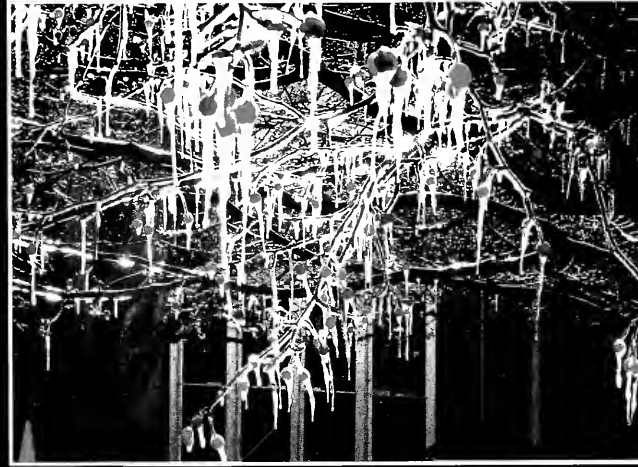

Bryan Beyer

Columbia is better because Ralph invested two decades of his life here. An incredible administrator and team builder, his leadership will be missed. Unfortunately, the faculty/staff softball team will lose a great outfielder!

Dear Class of 1998,

We have experienced exciting victories during this 75th Anniversary year: financial blessings, answers to prayer, new construction and changed lives. It has been a momentous occasion to hear God's voice and to watch God's ways. May we never forget or doubt these mountain-top glimpses of His glory. In fact, may such joys be regular, and never routine!

Authentic Christian living is Victorious Christian living. That does not mean that such a life is effortless, painless or problem-free. But it does mean that it is powerful, because it is lived in His power, not my own. This much is clear from our year verse, Zechariah 4:6: "Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, says the Lord.

The life of the Spirit is, indeed, the authentic Christian life. He has inscribed plainly in Scripture the will and ways of God. He uses those same Scriptures to convince us of sin, righteousness, and judgment, teaching us to trust and hope in the Son. He brings us to our knees before God and lifts us up to love our Father. He anoints us for our ministry, and fills us with His holiness. He overflows our lives in love, in service and in song.

Cherish and nurture this life of the Spirit. Be eager daily to trust and obey. Look to Him for all that He wants to give you. And may the Lord Jesus Christ become more precious to you moment by moment until we are finally caught up to meet Him in the air and to experience the ultimate victory, the greatest anniversary of all.

In His grace,

Johnny V. Miller
President

ROLLER SKATING,

anyone?

SENIOR SNEAK

The Scenic Route

The view on the way to Pigeon Forge, Tennessee.

Ed Germann questions the ingredients of Rodney Ward's salad.

David Michael smiles in relief, but Drew Taylor is still shaken after driving over a parking median.

Just the 28 of us!

The group enjoying a meal out.

"Are you sure we're going the right way, honey?"
"Ed, it's a CIRCLE!"

The few, the loud, the barely awake

The group prepares their 5 AM horn-honking strategy.

"On Dasher, on Dancer..."
 Kim Saturley, Allison Sanders, Christy Rich, and Rebekah Coddington found the local wildlife friendly.

"Pizza Pizza"
 What did the Seniors do on the trip? They ate...and ate...and ate...

Outstanding in their field...
 The Senior Sneak's group shot.

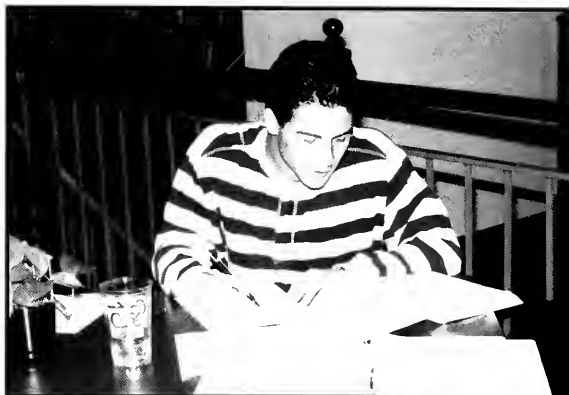

Spontaneous worship sessions were enjoyed during the trip, highlighted by Mindy Boyd's guitar playing and Ginger Singleton's singing.

The Mona Lisa's first praise and worship experience.

Mindy Boyd, Rebecca Winkel, Beth Grey, Heidi Wnuk, and Kimberly Baker wait for the Dixie Stampede to begin.

SENIOR sneak

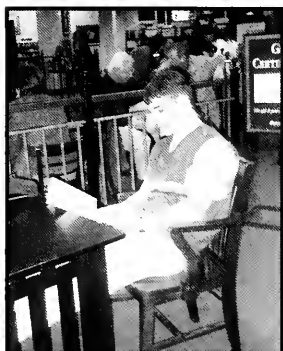

Looking studious and single, the book store could be just the ticket for getting a date. Brandon Wells just happens to be studying for his upcoming Marriage and Family exam.

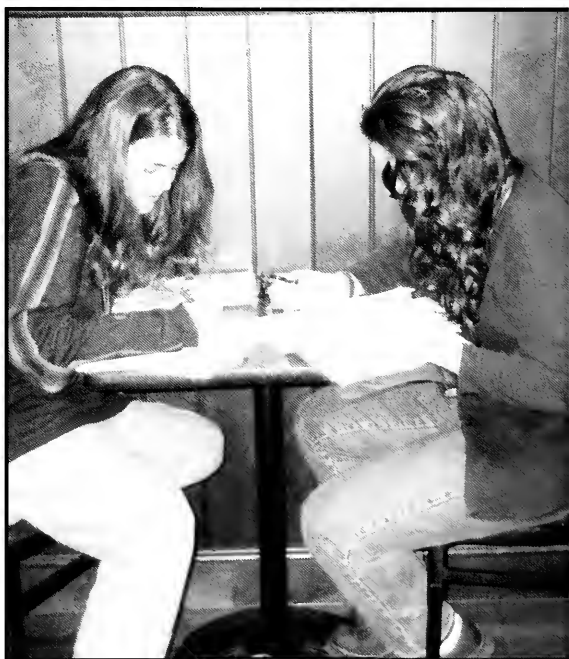

A "study date" over coffee was a great excuse for many couples to spend some time together. Amanda Burgess and Drew Carmichael appear to be getting some studying done.

People's hidden interests can often be discovered through the books they choose to look at. Christie is amused by the historical novel that her fiance Dan Newbanks has picked up.

See? Married students do have a social life! Shannon and Jason Lindgren and Jeff and Stephanie Shouse enjoy themselves over dessert and coffee.

Sometimes a change of scenery is just the thing to help studying go better. (Chris Haight)

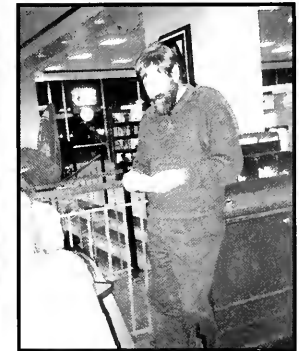

Pairing up with a friend somehow always makes things a little easier, even homework.

Coffee Break

Group study session or social hour? (Ruth Iglesias, Carrie Payne, John Boyd)

Tom Campbell was there early enough to grab a comfy chair.

Jerusha Tchividjian entertains her field ed group in the kid's section.

Dean Slade stops by to chat with some students while waiting for his coffee.

Benjamin Moore returns to his childhood.

Dr. Brad Mullen led prayer for the new Seminary building as the groups meditated on God's faithfulness.

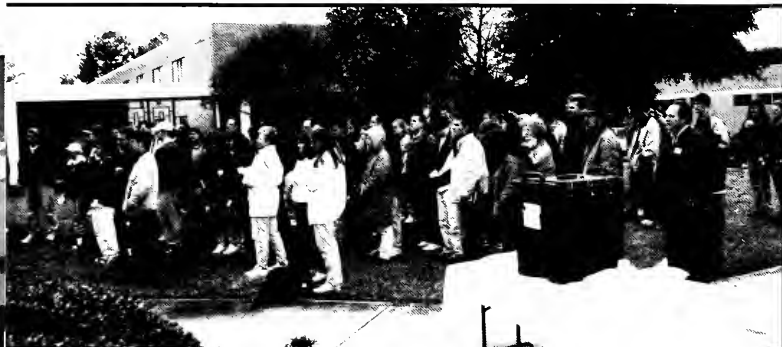

The 75th prayer day was conducted differently from previous prayer days. Grouped alphabetically, students and faculty rotated through several designated locations for times of focused prayer.

75th Prayer Day

This special day was spent thanking God for the past and praying for continued blessings and guidance for the future, with various alumni leading the way.

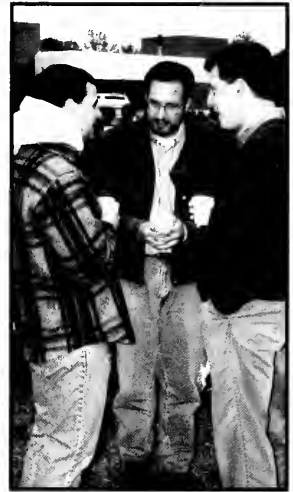

One of the designated places was in front of Memorial Dorm, named in honor of the men that had come from CIU and had given their lives for Christ on the mission field. Tom Edwards explains the display of the martyrs and their families before leading the group in prayer.

Under the shadow of the prayer towers, a constant reminder to trust and obey, the groups gathered to offer thanksgiving to God for His provisions through the years.

The cafeteria thoughtfully provided warm apple cider for the groups as they went from station to station to help combat the dampness of the day.

In front of Memorial the prayer was focused on those on the mission field, and those who were headed there, and the families of the martyrs from CIU.

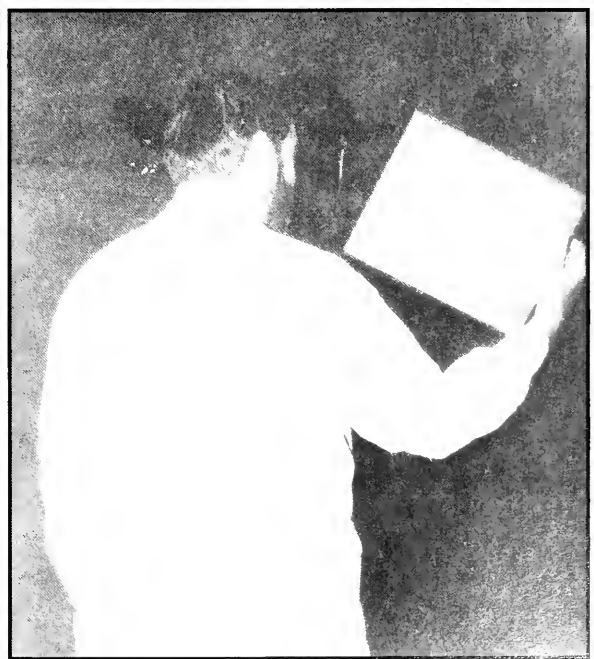

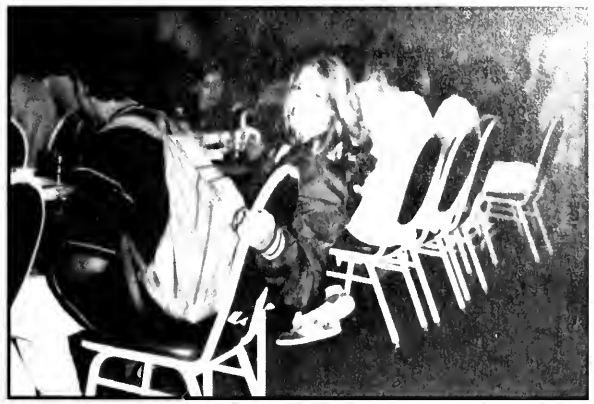

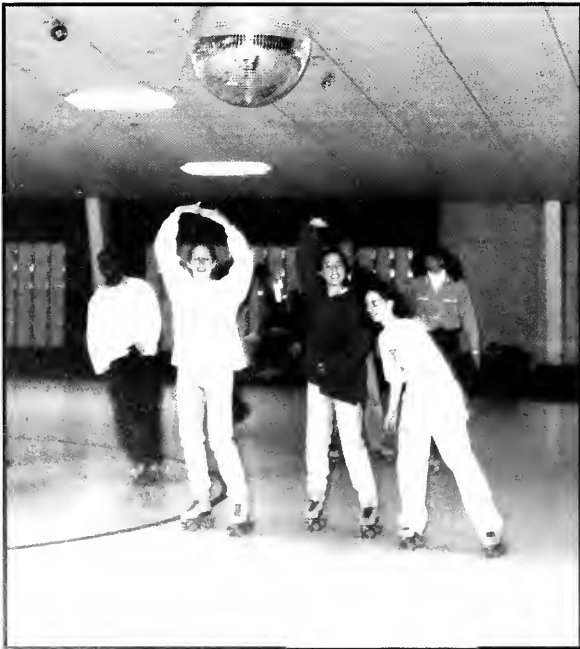

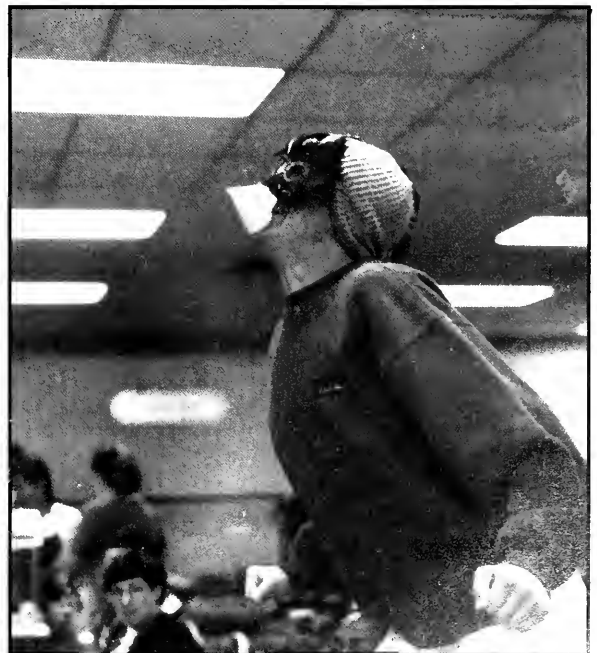

COLUMBIA
CHRISTMAS

'97

Drew Edwards, Chris Tuggy and Craig Tuggy demonstrated the proper way to hold a microphone.

Andy Raehl and his shadow juggle together.

GO SHOW 1997

Music was the most popular talent brought to the Go Show.

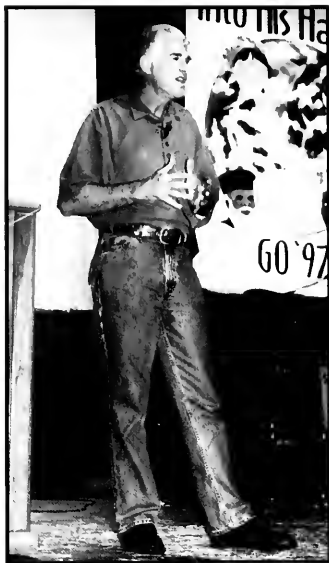

Does Heather Tuggy know that two gorgeous guys are sitting next to her?

Chewbacca guards three pretty mean looking guys. Are those polyester suits they are wearing?

Dick Corely and Rick Thomas were speakers at this year's Go Conference.

Music was provided by Jaye Morgan, Taylor Wagen and Roger Aldridge.

GO CONFERENCE '97

Special times together allowed students to relax and enjoy the conference.

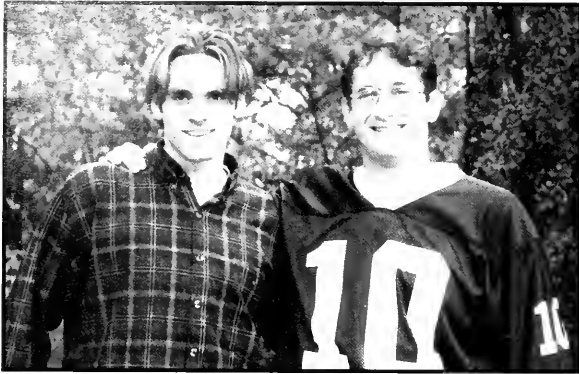

Jonathan Reibsamen, Go Committee Chairman, goes over some last minute details at the Conference. Jonathan is surrounded by the students who gave of their time to organize the conference.

Heidi and Bill Corbin catching some down time during the Go Conference. Both served on the Go Committee.

Student Life

Friendships grow strong and long at CBC. (Derek Hastings and Matt Eusey)

Red Light! Yellow Light! Green Light! But which one is on?

Grad students enjoy a time of fellowship before chapel begins.

Chris Tuggy dons a cap to protect himself from the cold SC weather. Perhaps a full beard would help Chris.

Jonathan Reibsamen shows us how his dental check-up went. "Look Ma, no cavities!"

Sometimes the only date a girl can get is from a guy in Memorial 3.

How do I get rid of it now? (Chad Luke)

Chris Rich and Natalie Abell enjoy each others company.

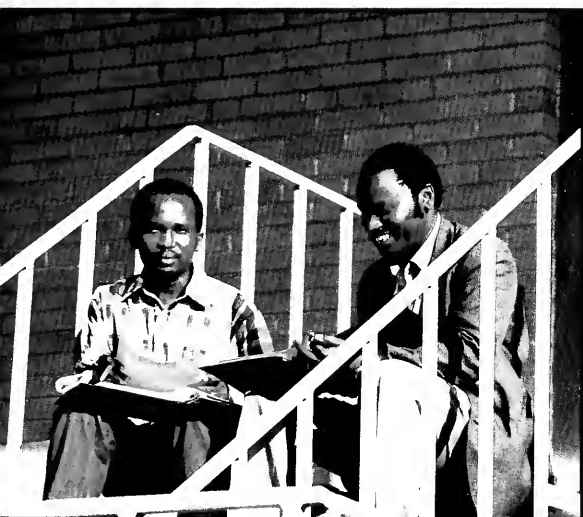

The pied-piper of the men's open dorms, Mike Matheson. Mike really enjoys playing the flute and dressing up in dark cloaks but no dagger.

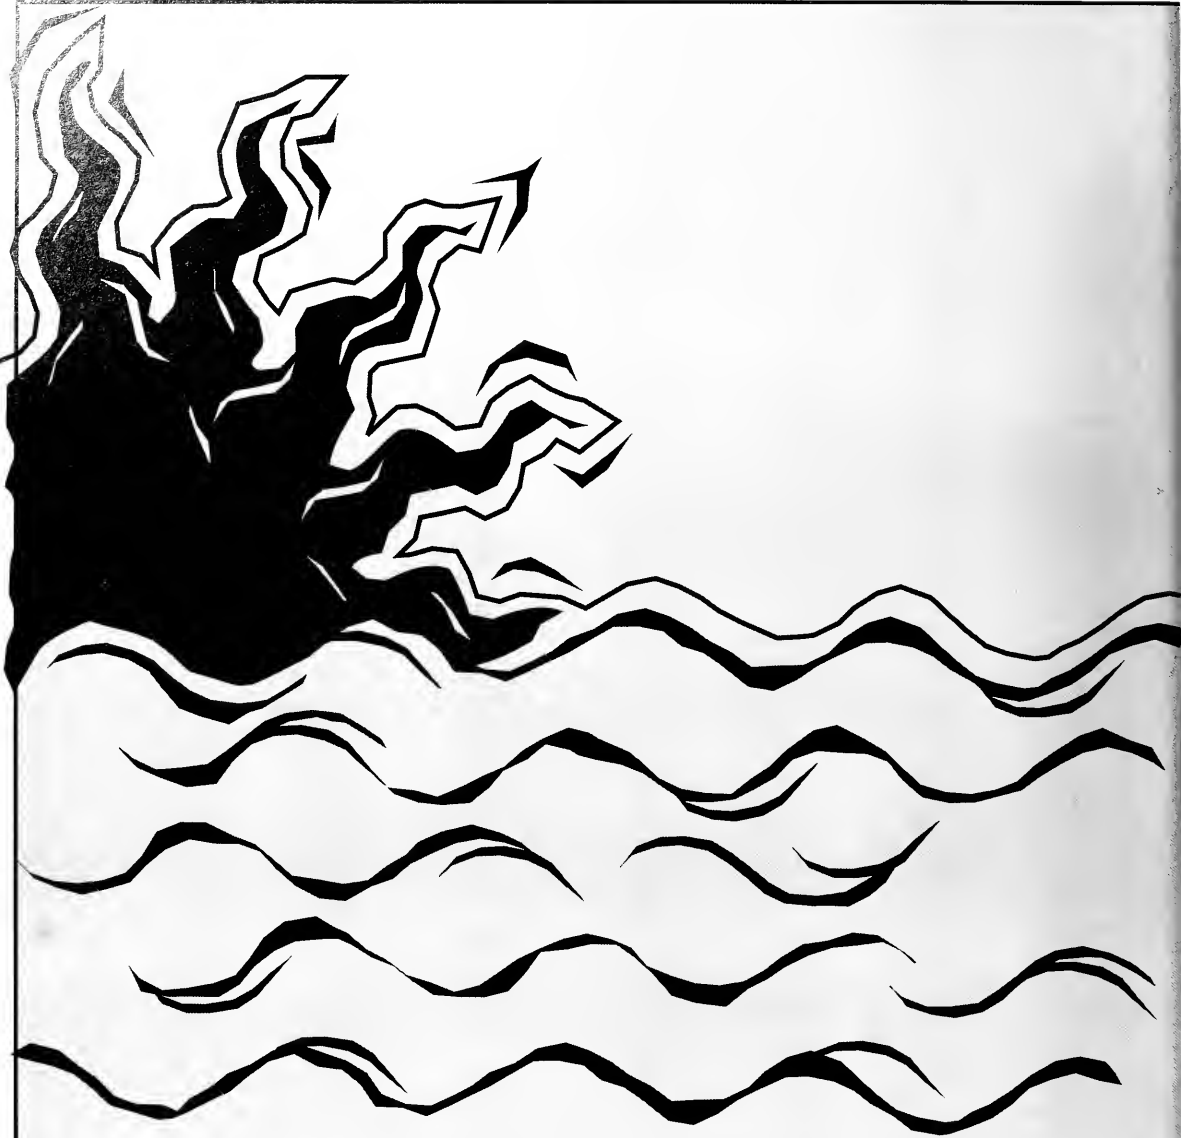

Rodney Ward getting ideas about what to do after graduation. Still plenty of time Rodney!

the editor's page

Well, as the editor this year, after all of the pages I've designed for the rest of the school, I decided to take this page for myself so I could thank all of the people who've helped in ways that would otherwise go unnoticed, but who were essential, just the same. (For those of you who know me, you may want to scan this page for your name to see if you're mentioned!)

Dr. Dan, thanks for being a surrogate dad and for helping me get past my many failures this year.

Mrs. Dorrie Dunlap, a big thank-you for helping me pass Field Ed!

Dr. McCallister, thanks for a wonderful class in which I learned something.

Dr. Farra, thanks for providing Christian insight into the human psyche and for many 'Farra-isms'!

My family, for understanding why they hadn't heard from me in weeks because of deadlines and for footing the bills.

Sammy and Drew (Thedford), thanks for many Wednesday evenings that were well worth the trip--nougat nose, SAFETY, theological discussions, coffee and dessert--many fond memories!

My dearest H, I am indebted to you for your friendship and to your family for the second home. My counseling services are always at your beck and call!

Amanda, we've survived yet another year, with one more to go! Thanks for trying to keep me in line and for being a part of the old school remnant. The coffee's always brewing and I'm always procrastinating...may some things never change!

Faith, thanks for bringing some spunk to this school! I am going to miss you next year, wild thang!

Jonathan, we never did date, much to everyone's disappointment, but I found a very good friend that fateful day, way back in '95. WCBC will forever be a part of me!

Christy "La Herge", thanks for making New Mexico so memorable and for being a constant encouragement.

Natalie, thanks for being the coolest thing going and for never failing to make me laugh.

Christy, thanks for the tunes and the deep thoughts.

David, thanks for the use of your house and for making my room mate glow--you are definitely a "Top 5!"

Brooke and Taylor, thanks for providing me with a haven of good food, music, and intelligent conversation to escape to when I needed some sanity. You will be missed more than you'll ever know.

Dan Silvers, thanks for being my big brother, but don't EVER take pictures of anyone roller skating again!

Winkel, my cello-playing friend, I have come to enjoy your friendship deeply. Boston, here we come! HA!

Angie and Michelle, thanks for tempering me with your sweetness.

Daniel, thanks for doing your job exceptionally well! This book is all you!

Chad, thanks for all of the "dances" together! Your brain is a rarity around here--I appreciate it greatly.

Chris, I'm so glad you're back! I'm honored to be your right-hand man next year.

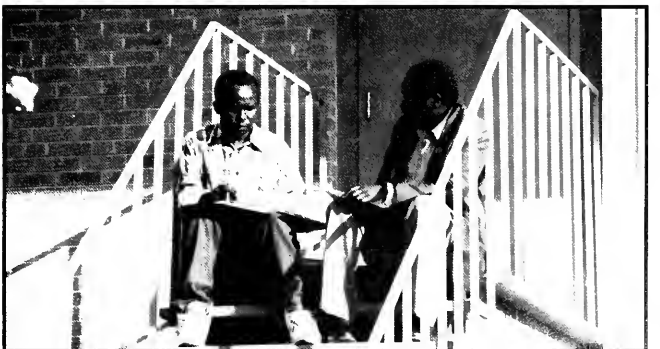

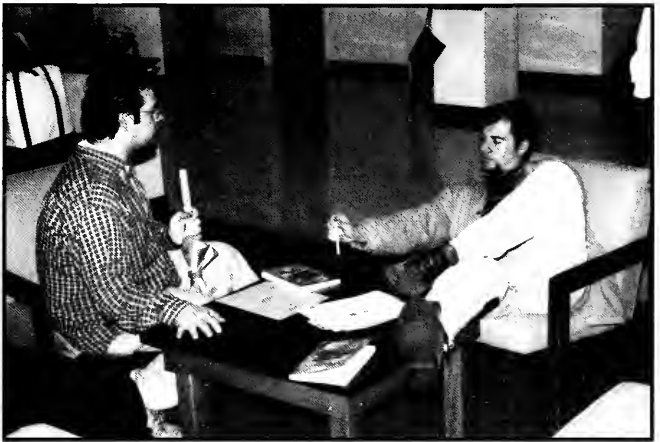

Tiffany, thanks for a similar sense of humor--SNL, baby!

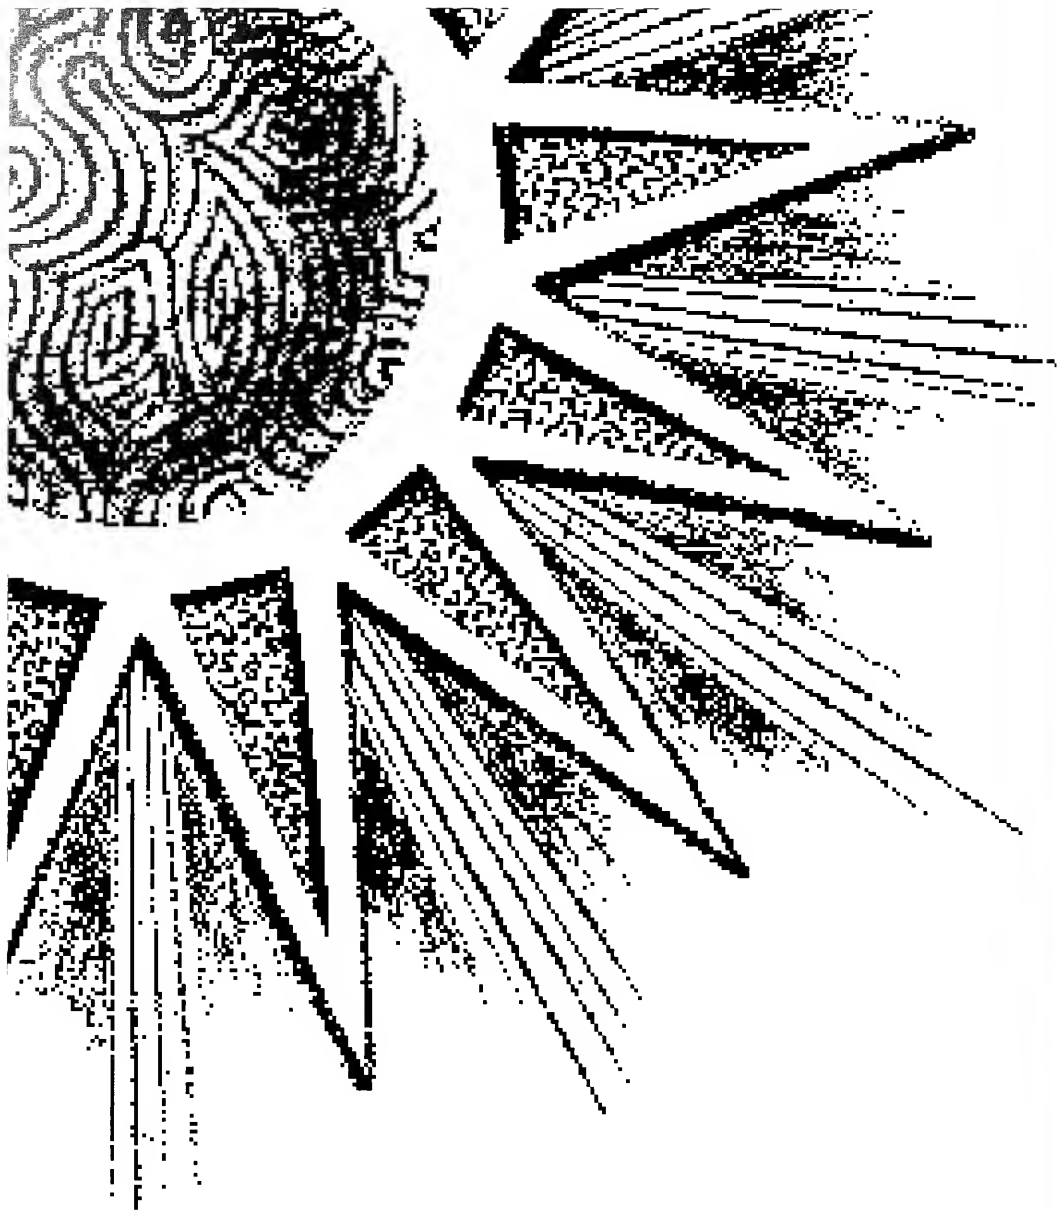

Sara, I can't thank you enough for all you did this year. You are a true life saver!

Keith, Quicksilver, when's the next beach trip?

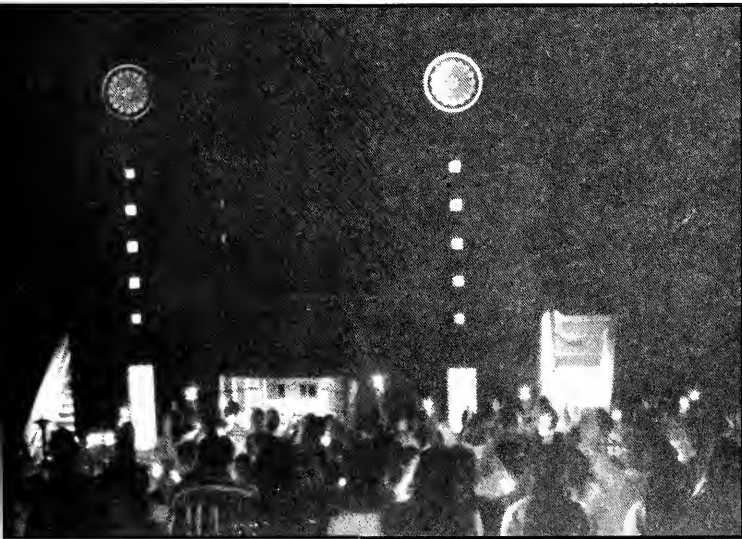

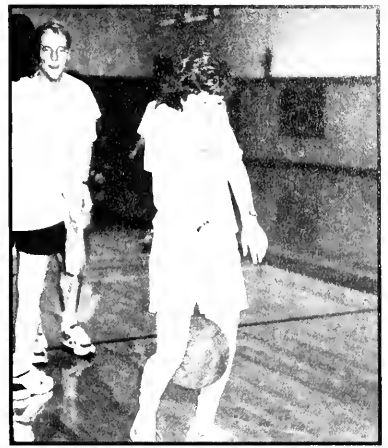

My one and only B, the Rubbermaid Queen, words can't even describe this year! I don't know how we made it, but we did, laughing all the way. Among other things, thank you for: your moral support in all my endeavors, the use of your computer, putting up with my side of the room, and being my "parole officer." There are WAY too many inside jokes to mention here, but know that you are a treasure to me, even if you aren't a ballerina! Wanna go get some cinder blocks? Randomness is the rule of the day--or is it coffee?!

It's a given that everything good is God's handiwork, and this book is no exception, so I give the most thanks to my heavenly Father, who is ever so faithful and full of grace and mercy.

Open Dorms

Rodney Ward, Christmas decorator extraordinaire, led West 1 in celebrating early for Open Dorms.

While West 1 celebrated Christmas, West 2 threw a New Year's Party.

Josh Kegg and Eric Flintoff got into the spirit of Memorial 2 and the 70's.

Sarah Jones welcomes Matt Johnson to her humble abode.

Jeannine Bowdler, Destiny McCrumb, and Christa Anderson keep themselves entertained by Jason Cochran.

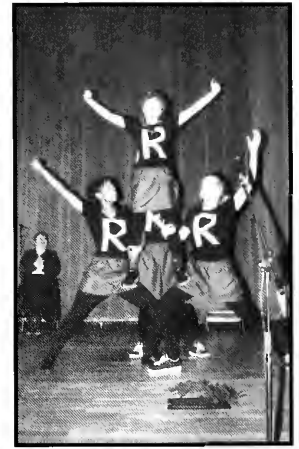

Doing airplanes in P.E. was only a small part of the mayhem from Petty 2. Elizabeth Erenic demonstrates with Cathy Lieder, who sang 80's hits the entire time.

Christy Hines endured "food Poisoning" for Founders 2.

Memorial 2 showed their true colors when they arrived to watch the skits dressed to kill.

Alica Lawhorn, Mary Heath Charles, and Daphne Bright show their team spirit for the Palmetto Roaches and Walker 2.

Rebecca Lomas and Allison Sanders display their "musical talent" in Founders 3 Marching band.

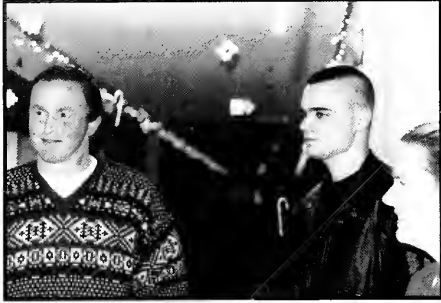

Angela Hawkins (as Will Felton, the "International Player") laughs as Kristina Brown (playing Paige Watkins) gets chewed out by Betsy "The Coach" Singleton.

M2 proves that they'll do anything for their sister hall, much to their approval.

Troy Krumbholz and Buddy Denmark help Earnie Taylor with his rap version of "Momma made me mash my M&M's."

Masashi Yamamoto patiently tolerates the ongoing debates between John the Independent, Fundamentalist Baptist (John Boyd), Jon the Southern Baptist (Jonathan Reibsamen) and Jon the Freewill Baptist (Jon Farra).

East 2 sang to their sister hall, complete with an electric guitar solo by Charlie Conley.

WORLD events '97-'98

Mars!! The roving vehicle Sojourner, the first mobile explorer to land on another planet, gathered soil and rocks for analysis. The rover's six metal wheels rolled slowly down a ramp from its landing craft, the Pathfinder. The Sojourner, about the size of a microwave oven, transmitted a flood of information to scientists back on Earth.

U.S. Secretary of State, Madeleine K. Albright, was the most visible and active secretary of state since Henry Kissinger. She was the highest ranking woman in the history of the U.S. government.

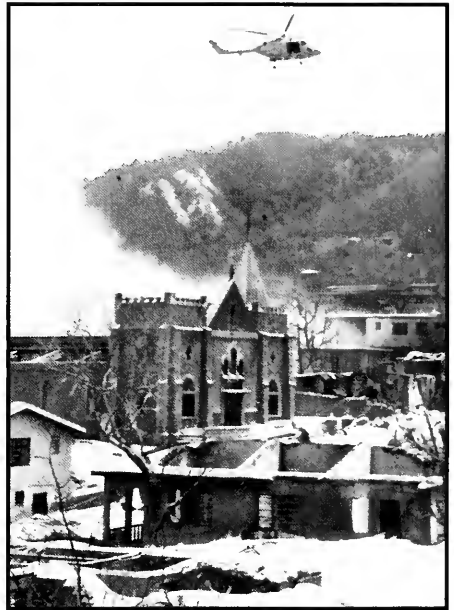

Mother Teresa died at the age of 87 on September 5, 1997 of heart failure at her convent in Calcutta, India. Through her Missionaries of Charity, she dedicated her life to helping the poor, the sick and the dying around the world.

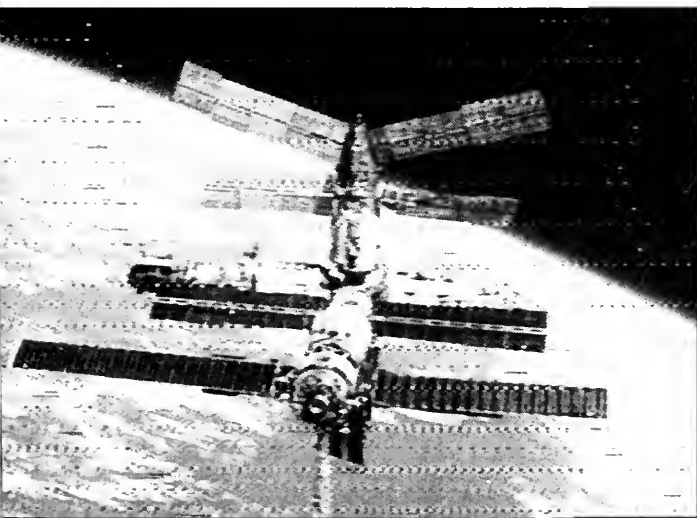

Diana, Princess of Wales, died in a car crash in Paris on August 31, 1997. Britain and the world bid farewell with a grand tribute rich in pageantry.

The Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) completed its inaugural season with the Houston Comets defeating the New York Liberty for the championship.

The residents of the Caribbean island of Montserrat witnessed first hand the devastation that a very active volcano can cause. In September the expulsion of ash and small rocks forced more than two-thirds of the population to evacuate the island.

The first component of the Mir Space Station, launched in 1986, has made more than 60,000 trips around the earth. Joint U.S.-Russian missions are the first phase of an International Space Station program, scheduled to be in orbit by 2002.

WORLD events '97-'98

In one of the most competitive games in Super Bowl history, John Elway and Terrell Davis led the Denver Broncos to a 31-24 upset of the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl XXXII. The Broncos' first National Football League championship ended the American conference's 13-year losing streak in the Super Bowl. Green Bay was the defending Super Bowl Champion.

John Denver, whose optimistic songs catapulted him to fame during the 1970s, died instantly when his experimental plane crashed into Monterey Bay in California on October 12, 1997. Winter Banquet Gallons of paper mache and elbow grease went into creating the right atmosphere. Betsy Singleton stirs a new batch of glue for the tunnel.

The jungle theme was carried throughout the evening, down to the dessert. Jennifer Palin and Catherine Tutherow scoop sherbert into coconut halves.

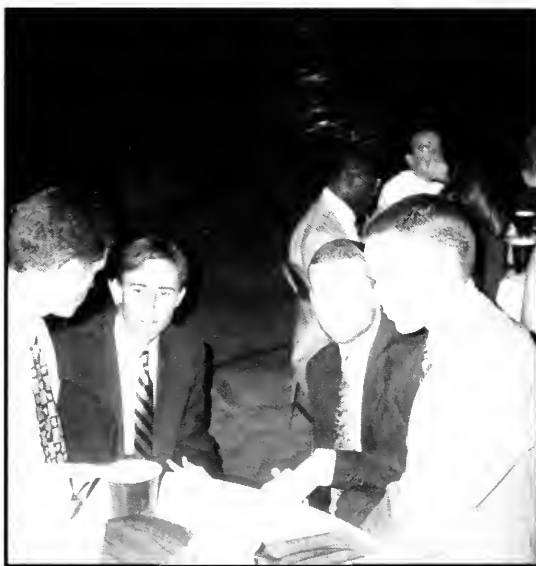

Late night sessions full of construction work and frustration were fueled by numerous boxes of pizza.

Richard Wilson became handy with a staple gun while building the tunnel that led into the "jungle," complete with its own waterfall.

Michelle Kinsey makes her social rounds before the dinner begins, visiting other tables and admiring the man-made "waterfall."

All dressed up with someplace to go: Jennifer Chadwick, Michelle Hess, Amanda Burgess and Heather Waller surround Brinda Flintoff, who went retro to match her date, David Michael.

Elisa Clark and Kristina Brown, dressed as "Indiana Jones," help serve the banquet feast, which was catered by Maurice's Barbecue.

Drew Tilghman discusses the movie "The Dagger of Ehud," which was the entertainment for the evening, with Monte Reitz, Drew Taylor and Mark Merry.

Columbia '97

The featured speaker of the conference was Adrian Dupree. Through his talks, the theme, "Do you know Jesus and does He know you?" was brought to life.

Sacrificing taste buds by trying to win a jalapeno pepper-eating contest was one way kids could win a T-shirt and entertain the audience at the same time.

Family groups allowed for more intimate times of sharing and praying for one another.

The Un-Olympics were held outside this year, which allowed for some messy events, like finding marbles with your feet in a pool of grits.

The icebreaker session is where the "parents" get to meet their "kids" and do some initial family bonding through various games and costumes.

Although the results are worth it, the Columbia Conferences take their toll on those who help out. Sammy Whicker zones out during a lull in the ice breaker games.

The talent show is always a crowd pleaser that draws out both hidden and obvious talents in those who attend. Here, three girls perform a sign language interpretation of a song.

Is it Drew Taylor, drummer for Everybody and Their Brother, or the latest member of DC Talk?

Faith Gragg takes great pleasure in giving "make overs" to the lucky contestants who volunteered, while Troy Krumbholz assists.

One of the highlights of the conference was a concert by CIU's Everybody and Their Brother, as evidenced by these star-struck girls.

Men's Open Dorms

Seth Talbott tests the waters of East 2 to see if more girls were attracted to the "Tunnel of Love" than M3.

Tom Gregory sits back and waits for the next visitor who desires some espresso and good conversation.

In keeping with the carnival theme, Andre Dionne scoops up cotton candy for Rick Swift and his family.

To be a true carnival, there must be games and there were a few at open dorms. Jennifer Buerkert tries her hand at one of them, climbing a suspension ladder.

Memorial 3 had a tattoo parlor in their space-themed hall. Matt Gregory waits for a tattoo to dry on Katie Shull's arm.

East 2 became the "Tunnel of Love" for Open Dorms, complete with their own "loveboat" at the end of the hall.

Josh Burnett and Troy Kromholz were on hand to amuse and entertain the crowd as clowns and balloon artists.

Debbie West tries on Nathan Conrod's snake for size during open dorms.

After testing his taste buds in the Tobasco drinking contest, Ed Jones throws his manners to the wind and drinks straight from the punch bowl to cool his tongue off.

Women's Open Dorms

Ben Lawson helps out Victoria Morgan by handing her markers as they color the night away.

Heather Korb shows Crystal and Travis Harvey what a good hostess she can be, as she lets them have a seat on the bed while she lounges on the couch.

Michelle Strayer can only stare in wonder at Jonathan Reibsamens' new haircut, which made it's debut at Women's open dorms.

Troy Krombolz and Nathan Lawson are on their best behavior in Kelly James' room.

Two solitary individuals play and exciting game of solitaire. It's Donald's move!

Anna Kephart gave mini demonstrations of some of her martial art skills to those who were brave enough to come into the room.

Katie Bland has to wait to use her own phone as Matt Toomey stops in to make a quick call.

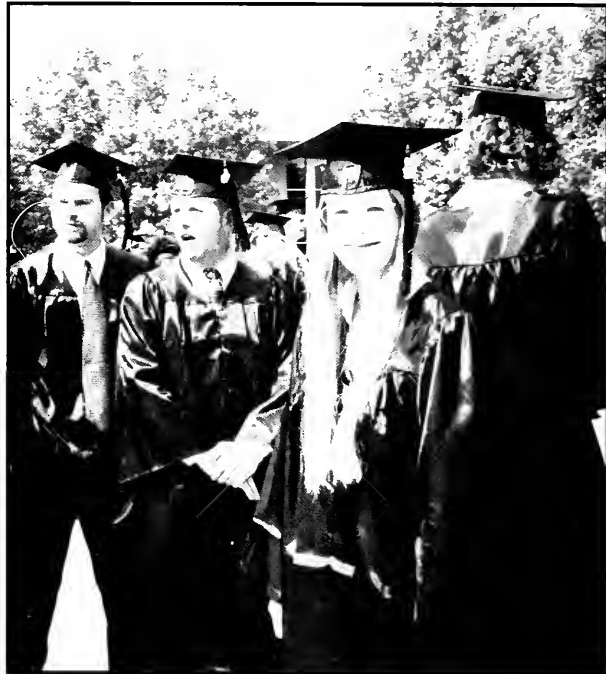

J.J. Thayer and Liz Oates borrow a wheelchair and take it for a spin on Petty One.

Chris Tuggy gets the grand tour from Amanda Primm.
